Institutional Challenges: What We Face Next

Friday, August 7, 2020

10:00 AM — 12:00 NOON

The Fall semester is just weeks away.

As we work to re-open and/or continue online learning, what challenges will we face regarding...

- the safety and health of students and all staff
- quality of learning both on campus and online
- how to get real value from online learning

How do we keep students engaged, despite reductions in some sports and student activities?

How can we reimagine our campuses in this new normal?

And how do we maintain our morale with so much change around us?

Join us for an important and engaging discussion, featuring an expert panel and your questions, comments and suggestions.
